Comments on the New Orleans Grand Jury Report.

APPROVED BY ALL CLASSES.

An Italian Consul at the Crescent City, However, Thinks That There Will Be Serious Complications Between This Country and His Own—Opinions Expressed Elsewhere—An American Attacked by a Mafia Mob in the Streets of Florence, Italy.

NEW ORLEANS, May 7.—The report of the grand jury is, of course, the general topic of conversation here and is approved by all classes of good citizens. The Italian consul here, Signor Corte, is, however, not enthusiastic over the document. He says that he is very much displeased with the report. He furnished much information to the jury, he says, which was ignored evidently as there is nothing in the report to indicate that it was used. Mr. Corte adds that his oath of secrecy prevents him from telling what he testified to before the grand jury. The consul says that he will immediately transmit the report in full to his home government and he fears that serious complications between Italy and the United States will be the ultimate result.

All of the daily newspapers comment freely on the report of the grand jury, which they endorse without exception.

The States says: "The report of the grand jury brings to light a number of startling facts concerning the assassination of the late superintendent of police of this city, the miscarriage of justice and the subsequent lynching of the prisoners in the parish prison. Naturally the grand jury could indict no one or no number of those concerned in this business. The 'people' did it; and no grand jury could devise a way to indict 'the people.'"

The Times-Democrat says: "The grand jury has made the proper return in the parish prison lynching—a return that will meet with the approval of the entire people, not of New Orleans alone, but of the country."

The Picayune says: "We accept the declaration of the inability of the grand jury to get information as to the participants in the storming of the parish prison. The grand jury could not find the guilty parties. That is plain enough. Any insinuation that the 'entire people' of the city and parish are responsible ought not to proceed from the grand jury, which was acting under oath."

AT THE STATE DEPARTMENT.

No Surprise Expressed as Such a Conclusion Was Expected.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—The report of the New Orleans grand jury upon the work of the mob at the parish prison there last March led to considerable discussion here. Attorney General Miller declined absolutely to express any opinion about it, or to discuss it in any of its features.

The findings of the grand jury excited no surprise, for some such conclusion in the case was expected. At the state department the attempt on the part of the jury to excuse the infraction of the law by offsetting it with the alleged attempts at jury fixing, is deprecated, but there is a well defined opinion that on the whole the outcome of the case will be beneficial in its effects upon the turbulent foreign elements in the United States, inasmuch as it will make clear to them the fact that they cannot rely upon treaties to escape responsibility to the great public for their unlawful acts.

The report, it is believed, differs in the matter of the nationality of the victims from the report of District Attorney Grant, now in the hands of the attorney general. The grand jury found that eight of the men were naturalized citizens, and that one had declared his intention to become naturalized, while the district attorney, it is believed, found that one of the victims was an Italian, but an escaped convict; and that another's nationality was so doubtful as to make it unsafe to hazard an opinion. So at its worst the Italian complaint will be narrowed down to two persons, and one of them an escaped convict.

AMERICANS ATTACKED IN ITALY.

A Massachusetts Man and His Daughter Assaulted By a Mafia Mob.

ROME, May 7.—While Mr. William Jacques, an American from Newton, Mass., was out driving with his daughter at Florence Tuesday, his carriage was pursued by a mob of people who attacked it and pelted it with stones. His daughter, who interfered in his behalf, was injured.

Jacques a Quiet, Inoffensive Man.

BOSTON, May 7.—William Jacques, of Newton, Mass., who, with his daughter, was assaulted by an Italian mob at Florence Tuesday, is the electrician of the American Bell Telephone company. He is on a pleasure trip abroad, and intends to be gone about six months. He sailed for England about a month ago. He is well known in this and other eastern cities. He is spoken of as a quiet, inoffensive man. He is highly educated, and was at one time a professor of the Johns Hopkins college, Baltimore. His friends and those who know him are at a loss to account for the assault upon him. Mr. Jacques is accompanied by his wife and two children, both daughters, one aged 8 and the other 10 years.

SCOTTSVILLE, Ky., May 7.—The bank of Allen county assigned yesterday morning to Dr. J. R. Stoddard. The Warren Deposit bank, of Bowling Green, is the largest creditor. The bank owes its depositors $20,000. The assignment was hastened by the fire last Saturday morning, which burned the bank building.

AMONG THE LABORERS.

Mass-Meeting in Cooper Union Hall, New York City—Elsewhere.

NEW YORK, May 7.—Fully 3,000 workingmen crowded Cooper Union hall last night, and as many more could not find room and organized an overflow meeting, to protest against what they regarded as the unjust conviction of Joseph Barondess, the leader of the striking cloakmakers. Samuel Gompers presided. In his opening speech Mr. Gompers said there was a feeling in New York that a great injustice had been done. The strike at Barondess was a strike at organization.

Christopher Evans, of the Federation of Labor, and George E. McNeil, of Boston, also spoke. As applicable to the present case, the latter referred in his remarks to the finding of the New Orleanse grand jury as follows: "When justice is miscarried by the courts, the power duly rests with the people."

Strike Unchanged.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., May 7.—There was practically no change in either the miners or varnishers' strike yesterday. Both the strikers and operators are standing firm, and there is no sign of either party weakening. The operators are still receiving coal from mines along the Nashville division of the Louisville and Nashville railroad, also from Spottsville, Ky.

Brazil Miners Go Back to Work.

BRAZIL, Ind., May 7.—A large mass-meeting of the block coal miners met at the court house yesterday. The secretary read a proposition from the operators which was accepted. The miners return to work at last year's prices, signing contracts for a year.

Situation in New York.

NEW YORK, May 7.—The striking housesmiths yesterday were proffered aid from the architectural iron workers at Hoboken, N. J., but the assistance was unanimously declined. The situation is unchanged. The framers' strike is practically dead.

Threatened Strike Averted.

BOSTON, May 7.—The threatened strike of the granite cutters in this city has been averted. This was brought about by a conference held yesterday between the union and the Manufacturers' association, at which all differences were adjusted.

Street Car Line Builders Strike.

VINCENNES, Ind., May 7.—Twenty-five men at work on the extension of the street car line, struck yesterday. They were getting $1.25 per day and want $1.50. An effort will be made to work new men. The strikers threaten opposition.

ACROSS THE ATLANTIC.

Gladstone Wins a Victory in the Stowmarket Election—Other Foreign News.

LONDON, May 7.—The result of the election held Tuesday for a successor in parliament to the late Mr. Edward Greene, who represented the Stowmarket, or northwest division of Suffolk, shows that the Gladstonians have won another victory. Baron Stern, Gladstonian, received 4,346 votes; Mr. Greene, Conservative, received 4,132 votes.

The late member, Mr. Edward Greene, was a Progressive Conservative, and a well known brewer of St. Edmunds. At the last election in the Stowmarket division, the late Mr. Greene received 3,906 votes to 3,362 cast for the Gladstone Liberal candidate, Mr. Edward North Buxton, whom he defeated.

The Czar Withdraws a Military Order.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 7.—The czar has withdrawn the order recently issued for the transfer of the Twenty-second army division from Novgorod to the western frontier. This action was taken by the czar in consequence of its having come to his knowledge that the German emperor was annoyed at the proposed transfer because the Wyborg regiment, of which he is honorary colonel, forms a part of the Twenty-second division.

Explosion in a Coal Pit.

BERLIN, May 7.—A disastrous explosion has occurred in the Serio coal pit at Saarbrucken, Rhenish Prussia. Eight persons were killed outright and seven others were seriously injured.

Seven Hundred Arrests.

VIENNA, May 7.—Three hundred students and 400 others were arrested at Warsaw yesterday, for an orderly attempt to celebrate the centennial of the Polish constitution.

Fight With Anarchists.

ROME, May 7.—In a conflict last night between the police and some Anarchists, twelve shots were exchanged and several persons were wounded.

Jew Expulsion Suspended.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 7.—The authorities have suddenly suspended the expulsion of the Jews from Moscow.

Embezzling Drummer Commits Suicide.

NEW YORK, May 7.—Joseph Kaatz, a drummer in the employ of Schley & Company, of No. 15 Walker street, shot himself dead yesterday afternoon in front of his employers' store. Kaatz had just been accused of embezzling funds from the firm and an officer had been sent for to arrest him. Kaats was 22 years old. He had evidently premeditated suicide in anticipation of his arrest, as letters were found in his pockets addressed to his sister, asking her to forgive him and bury him. The amount of his defalcation is small.

Burned by Molten Metal.

BELLOWS FALLS, Vt., May 7.—A ladle containing two tons of molten iron capsized at the foundry of Osgood & Baker last night, while the metal was being poured into a flask. John Staunton, of Athol, Vt.; John Sullivan, of Keene, N. H.; Edward Rouse and Michael Hackett, of Bellows Falls, were severely burned. It is thought that Staunton will die.

IN A COLD RAIN.

President Harrison's Welcome to the State of Washington.

THE TRIP MADE TO SEATLTE.

A Few Hours' Stay at That Northern City and Then the Journey Homeward is Begun—Back to Portland—Program of the Return Trip.

TACOMA, Wash., May 7.—Notwithstanding the cold rain that has been falling for two days, the people of the state of Washington gave the president a warm welcome at every station where the special train stopped yesterday morning. It was 6 o'clock when the train reached Chehalis, the first stopping place in the state. The president was up to receive the large crowd assembled at the station, and the people seemed to appreciate his sacrifice of sleep, for they cheered lustily.

Rain was coming down steadily when the train reached Centralia, where several hundred people, a G. A. R. post, and a band gave a hearty welcome. The mayor of the city introduced the president, who made a short speech. Stops of a few minutes were made at several small stations where large crowds had assembled.

When the train reached Tacoma, the president and party were conducted to carriages and a procession was formed, composed of companies of the National Guards of Washington, and the Sons of Veterans, a troop of cavalry, posts of the Grand Army, Sons of Veterans, Odd Fellows, Masons and others. From the depot the line of march was up Pacific avenue to Ninth street, thence to C street square, where all the militia and societies were massed. The presidential party continued up C street, escorted by the cavalry, to the northern part of the city, through the residence portion and returned through the City park to Tacoma avenue, where, between Ninth and Eleventh streets the school children were lined on each side of the street. The little ones, dripping with rain, gave the president a hearty welcome. When his carriage stopped to enable him to make them a brief address, he was covered with a shower of flowers.

After making a brief speech the president held a reception in the Gross block. While the president was speaking the ladies of the party were entertained in the opera house by the ladies of Tacoma, where a beautiful painting of Mount Tacoma was presented by the art club to the president and Mrs. Harrison. From the opera house the party went directly to the steamer, which steamed out of the harbor amid the roar of artillery, screeching of whistles, etc., accompanied by a fleet of excursion boats gaily decorated, en route to Seattle.

The notable feature of the president's reception, and which deserves special mention, was the arches erected on Pacific avenue. The first one was composed of blocks of massive timber, the next one, of sombre aspect, was composed of coal, the next was a massive column of pig iron followed by one of iron and silver ore. Then came arches of shingles and various woods, all representing the various resources of the new state of Washington.

AT SEATTLE.

The President Reaches the Most Northern Point of His Journey.

SEATTLE, Wash., May 7.—It was nearly 2 o'clock when the steamer City of Seattle with the presidential party, Governor Ferry and staff and Mrs. Ferry, Senator and Mrs. Allen, Mayor White, of Seattle, and the Seattle reception committee arrived at the dock here. Just after the City of Seattle left Tacoma, Mayor White, on behalf of the citizens of Seattle, made an address of welcome to which the president responded happily. The rest of the trip was occupied in partaking of an elaborate luncheon.

The rain that marred the Tacoma reception had ceased when the steamer arrived at Seattle, but a cold northwest wind had set in. As the City of Seattle approached its pier, all the steam vessels, including the score of steamers that had accompanied her from Tacoma, blew their whistles and this almost deafening noise was augmented by the booming of cannon and shouting of thousands of people who occupied every available space along the water front. Excursionists from all over the state and British Columbia, and crowds on the streets along which the procession passed were packed in a solid mass for the greater part of the route. One continuous cheer marked the passage of the president from the steamer to Lake Washington.

The houses in the city were generally decorated and beautiful arches were erected at the prominent street corners. An escort composed of the First regiment, National Guard of Washington, Sons of Veterans and G. A. R. posts accompanied the president to the cable car station, where the pupils of the high school sang an ode of welcome. On one side of the arch, erected at this place, sat the daughter of Chief Seattle, after whom the city was named. Short stops were made at the school buildings along the route to enable the pupils to see the president and odes of welcome were sung by the little ones. At arrival at Lake Washington the steamer Kirkland was boarded by the party for a tour of the lake.

On the return to the landing the cable cars were again taken to Madison and Second streets, where the procession was reformed and the presidential party was escorted to the university grounds. Here thousands of citizens and students gave the president a rousing welcome. A program consisting of singing by the public school children, an address of welcome by Judge Thomas Burke, addresses by the president, Messrs. Wanamaker and Rusk and the presentation to the president of gentlemen who had voted for William Henry Harrison and of a number of other citizens was carried out. Among those presented were the mayors of several cities in Washington and in British Columbia, who came to Seattle especially to greet the president.

From the university grounds the president and party were driven to the special train which left Seattle, amid a shouting concourse of enthusiastic people, at 6:20 o'clock.

The program of the return trip of the president, so far as decided, is as follows: After stopping a few hours at Portland, he will go to Salt Lake City, stopping one day at Boise City, Idaho, then to Leadville, Colorado Springs, Denver, Lincoln, Neb., Omaha, Hannibal, Mo., Springfield, Ill., Decatur, Indianapolis, Columbus and Pittsburg.

BIG FIRE IN NEW YORK.

Several Buildings and Acres of Lumber Destroyed.

NEW YORK, May 7.—Fire started in the Doncaster iron foundry, at West avenue and Flushing street, Long Island City, at 11 o'clock last night, entirely consuming the building with its contents. The Clark & Sampson feed mills next door also took fire and were burned to the ground. The flames then spread to the immense lumber yards across the street, which cover seven or eight acres, or thirteen city blocks. Several different firms occupy this ground, among them being that of H. S. Whiting, H. S. Burroughs, and the Export Lumber company, owned by William R. Grace & Company.

At present all of the lumber in these yards is burning, with no possible hope of saving any of it. This immense lumber district is situated on the north side of Newton creek. Just across the creek are many oil refineries, and a terrible conflagration will follow if they should become ignited. Fortunately the wind is blowing the other way, and this will not occur unless it changes and carries the flames across the creek. To the north of the burning district is the new station of the Long Island railroad, and, as a high wind prevails in that direction, it will probably be burned. The firemen are directing all their efforts to save this property.

All the locomotives of the company are in readiness to pull out all the cars in the yard if the depot should begin to burn. The loss cannot be estimated at this time, but will considerably exceed a million dollars.

There was a great deal of shipping in Newton creek which was towed out into the East river by the tugs of the Standard Oil company, which concern controls the immense oil works on the south side of the creek.

THAT PITTSBURG BLAZE.

The Loss Will Not Reach More Than Half a Million Dollars.

PITTSBURG, May 7.—Several streams of water were kept pouring upon the ruins of Wednesday night's fire through the day. The city building inspectors have completed an examination of the burned district and the surrounding buildings. They now estimate the loss at about $500,000, and say that very little of the property is uninsured. It is feared that the Pittsburg Female college is a total loss. One-half of the building is gutted by fire, while the part which escaped the fire is thoroughly saturated with water and likely beyond repair.

The building inspector says that although a number of tenement houses in Mattock alley and on the west side of Seventh street were either burned or badly damaged, they were of so little value that they can hardly be classed among the losses. Seventh street below Pennsylvania avenue is completely blocked and is impassable to vehicles. The work of clearing away the debris has already commenced.

County Infirmary Burned.

MUNCIE, Ind., May 7.—The county infirmary, located five miles east of this city, burned at 11 o'clock yesterday, and was a total loss. The fire was caused by defective regulation of natural gas. The inmates, forty-five in number, were rescued without loss of life, although two sick persons narrowly escaped suffocation, and one insane man had to be forcibly restrained to prevent rushing back into the flames. The loss to the county is $8,000, and there is $3,000 insurance, divided equally between the Traders of Chicago and the Hamburg-Bremen. S. F. Watson, superintendent, was damaged $500.

Wheel Works at Sidney Burned.

SIDNEY, O., May 7.—At 1 o'clock Wednesday morning the shops of the American Wheel company were burned down. The loss on stock and buildings is estimated at $100,000. The company carried $60,000 insurance, part of which has lapsed; 200 men are out of employment. The monthly pay roll averaged $5,000. Origin of the fire unknown.

Vacant Hotel Building Burned.

MASSILLON, O., May 7.—An incendiary fire yesterday morning wrecked the Empire hotel building, which had been vacant since April 1. It was insured for $2,000 in the Columbiana County Mutual and $1,400 in the Royal of Liverpool.

Another Story.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., May 7.—Antonio Boniface was arrested here yesterday charged with throwing the woman, O'Donnell, from a railroad bridge on Monday night. He denies the charge. He says both himself and the woman were drunk, and that while walking across the bridge the woman lost her footing and fell into the stream. The police believe that the man had no hand in the woman's fall from the bridge.

Struck By a Train.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., May 7.—John Mansell was struck by a train on the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western yesterday. He was walking along the tracks at the time. He was taken to the hospital in an unconscious condition and it is thought that his injuries are fatal. His parents reside in Brooklyn.

OHIO STATE NEWS.

Dispatches Detailing Important Happenings.

RAILROAD DIRECTORS' MEETING.

The Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Make a Good Report of Last Year's Transactions—The Nickle-Plate Declares Its First Dividend—Other Buckeye Dispatches.

CLEVELAND, O., May 7.—The twenty-first annual meeting of the board of directors of the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern railroad was held in this city yesterday. Among the gentlemen present were W. K. Vanderbilt and E. D. Wocester, of New York, and President John Newell, of Chicago. Auditor Leland showed the total earnings for the last fiscal year to have been $20,865,759 against $19,487,186 during 1889. The operating expenses were $14,220,480 against $12,847,451 in 1889. Net earnings, $6,645,278 against $6,639,745 in 1889.

The number of tons of freight moved in 1890 was by far the largest in the history of the company, being 11,531,266 tons, against 10,020,590, the largest previous record. There was a decrease of $22,457 in passenger earnings, the result of a lower average rate per mile than that charged in former years. All the old directors and officers were re-elected.

The stockholders of the New York, Chicago and St. Louis railroad (the Nickle-Plate) held their fourth annual meeting in this city yesterday and declared a dividend of 3½ per cent. on preferred stock. This is the first dividend the investment has ever paid. The earnings for the year were $5,820,000, the largest in the history of the road, and being an increase of $729,977 over last year.

UNEARTHING A CRIME.

Some Good Work Done by Detectives in Northern Ohio.

WOOSTER, O., May 7.—During the night of Aug. 20 last the farm house of Michael Shelby, near this city, was forcibly entered by four masked men, who bound and gagged Shelby and his aged wife and stole cash amounting to $12,000. Mrs. Shelby died from nervous prostration brought on by the excitement of the robbery. A detective bureau has just caused the arrest of Henry H. Binckley, his grandson, Harry Webb, and a son, Daniel Binckey, neighbors of the Shelbys.

Until a few weeks before the crime was committed, Daniel Binckley was a member of the Kansas City police force, where he was discharged. Among the bills stolen was one of a $1,000 denomination. Daniel Binckley's wife made a trip to Canada to get this bill changed and the Canadian bank officials suspicions of her actions, took a snap shot picture of her as she was receiving the money. The men will also be prosecuted for murder.

REMARKABLE REVIVAL.

Cleveland Business Houses Closed to Let Employes Attend.

CLEVELAND, May 7.—One of the most remarkable religious revivals in the history of Cleveland has been in progress here for the past three weeks under the direction of Rev. Mr. Mills, the evangelist, and supported by a union of the principal evangelical churches of this city.

Wednesday was observed as the "mid-week Sabbath," and fully one-half the business houses and manufactories closed in the afternoon, in order to allow their employes to attend the service. Music Hall has been crowded evening after evening by thousands of people. Upward of 9,000 persons have already signed cards signifying their intention of becoming Christians. The meetings close Sunday.

State Printing Delayed.

COLUMBUS, O., May 7.—The Westbote company, of this city, which runs a non-union printing office got the contract for the state printing some time ago and has been doing wretched work ever since. The firm now finds it impossible to complete the publication of the senate and house journals, laws, etc., before September, while a law requires that they be printed within thirty days of the adjournment of the legislature. Accordingly the printing commission, composed of the secretary of state, attorney general and auditor, will meet and take such action as may be found best. It is likely that the contract will be annulled and the work given to some establishment capable of handling it.

Grand Encampment I. O. O. F.

ZANESVILLE, O., May 7.—The right worthy grand encampment of Ohio I. O. O. F. met in this city with a full representation. All were welcomed by Maj. Bell and P. C. P. Gibbons. Grand Patriarch Van Noordan responded. After a reception, speeches and responses the hall was cleared of all not members of the order, and the grand encampment opened up in due form and the regular order of business began.

Baptized in a Coffin.

SPRINGFIELD, O., May 7.—Miss Alice Madison, aged 18, whose death from consumption is hourly expected, yesterday morning called in friends, saying she must die and asked to be baptized. Elder D. B. Green was called and the immersion, according to the church rites, was made in a metallic casket filled with warm water. She will be buried in the same casket.

Dead Stranger Identified.

COLUMBUS, O., May 7.—The man found dead at the Grand Central hotel last Sunday night has been identified as W. A. Schenvegt, of Point Pleasant, W. Va., who left home Friday to go to Ravenswood, W. Va. It is thought that his mind was unbalanced. His death is probably due to heart disease.

Death of a Pioneer Minister.

COLUMBUS, O., May 7.—Rev. Joseph M. Trimble, aged 84, who is widely known in Ohio as a pioneer minister of the Methodist church, died in Columbus from la grippe. The remains will be taken to Hillsboro, his boyhood home. He was the son of Governor Trimble.

A Life for a Hat.

IRONTON, O., May 7.—Charles Gill, an old man, jumped from an iron railroad passenger train yesterday morning going at full speed, and was fatally injured. His hat had blown off and he jumped to get it.

The Indian Messiah Arrested.

KINGFISHER, O. T., May 7.—A man answering the description of the Indian Messiah was arrested near here yesterday and was brought to this city. He has attracted much attention by his peculiar attire and his witty answers to all questions. He says his name is Oh Homa, and that he is a descendant of the Toltic and Osage Indians. He is well educated and talks six different languages. Where he came from or whither he is bound he does not tell. He does not claim to be the Messiah, but says he has important business with the Cheyenne and Arapahoe and other tribes of Indians in the southwest.

Mike Kelly's Welcome to Boston.

BOSTON, May 7.—Mike Kelly was given a magnificent reception on the Congress street grounds yesterday afternoon by over 3,000 persons. The "King" was presented with a handsome wagonette and spirited iron gray horse, and a floral horseshoe four feet high. The crowd rose en masse every time he came to the bat. His team played well in the field, but could not hit Haddock, who pitched a splendid game.

ABSOLUTELY PURE

A DANGEROUS CRANK.

He Goes from Denver, Col., to New York on a Mission to Kill Jay Gould.

NEW YORK, May 7.—A dangerous crank, who gives his name as Charles J. Dickson, has been arrested at the request of Jay Gould. Dickson went on Monday to the house of Dr. Munn, Mr. Gould's physician, and announced that he was vice president of an order called "The Christ Followers," and that he had a mission to kill Jay Gould. If, however, the millionaire would give $60,000, and make certain arrangements for the distribution of his property to charity, he would refrain from assassination. Dickson will be examined as to his sanity.

On Dickson's person when arrested were found a black jack and a pistol. He made no resistance, and after reaching police headquarters told Police Inspector Brynes that he was in the land commission business at Pueblo, Col., and left there on April 15. He related a thrilling story to the inspector about four men he had killed single-handed while they were attempting to rob his office of legal papers. He said he joined the "Christ Followers" about a year ago in the following manner: He was instructed to go to a place called Owl's Head on the Canada line. He stayed there until dark, and then about fifty men, in masks, appeared and surrounded him. He was made to kneel and take a number of blood-curdling oaths. The object of the organization was for the equalization of money.

The council met about the 15th of last month, he said, and convicted Jay Gould. It fell to his lot to go to New York and make certain proposals to Mr. Gould regarding the distribution of his wealth, and if they were not complied with he was to kill him. Failing to accomplish his work, Dickson said, he would kill himself. He would go to Hartford, Conn., his native place, where he had a spot selected for the deed. He said he would have two pistols, one to fire into the air and the other to shoot himself with. This would give the impression that he had been murdered. The police regard the man as a very dangerous crank.

COURT MARTIAL VERDICTS.

Walter S. Payne Dismissed from the Sons of Veterans.

TOPEKA, Kan., May 7.—Commander-in-Chief Webb, of the Sons of Veterans, yesterday issued general order No. 3, giving the result of the court martial of Walter S. Payne, of Fostoria, O., ex-commander-in-chief, charged with embezzling $16,000 of the order's money. The verdict of the court was dishonorable discharge from the order. The verdict is approved by the commander-in-chief.

The order No. 3 also promulgates the findings in the court martial of Col. George Addington, of the New York division, charged with embezzlement. The verdict is degradation from the rank of colonel. This verdict is also approved.

Gamblers Heavily Fined.

NOBLESVILLE, Ind., May 7.—The gamblers here received a black eye in the circuit court. W. A. Fisher, who has been long known as the keeper of a gambling room, has been fined $150 on one count, and anther case is still pending. Fisher was convicted before the mayor and appealed. The principal witness against him fled, but witnesses enough remained to convict.

WITH the new wards that are likely to be made perhaps the Marion Republicans can get one to claim again. Picking has been pretty thin lately as the wards now are.

JUST notice it once. We have a pretty large exchange list and have yet to see a democratic paper that gives an unqualified endorsement of the adjourned legislature.

PERHAPS the Italian government will claim indemnity for the losses of the organ grinders and de monks through the cold spell. The "hand-me-down" music business has been unprofitable all around except at Upper Sandusky.

IT may be that we are groping around in darkness when there is plenty of light, but so far we have heard nothing especial about board of health work. The citizen who thinks there is no work for the board must have both poor eyesight and a complacent nose.

EVERYBODY wants to boom more or less in these moving times, but the public spirited individual with a patent to sell must be received with caution. The safe way is to look at these ducks with suspicion. There could be a reasonably impressive amount of local testimony on this point.

WE don't want to be sacrilegious but really those Delaware ministers who enjoy the power of influencing Providence's mysterious ways should have saved us from this cold spell. There is no doubt that the frost has done much damage—ripped a good many fond hope in the buds, as it were.

OUR Methodist folks should keep an eye on the Rev. Dr. Bridgman, of New York, who says that there is no eternal punishment for the wicked, and that whatever punishment there may be, it is not the form of fire. Here one is reminded of that great editor Horace Greely, who said that if there is no hell there ought to be.

THERE is now a reason for renewed hope of a good union depot. The passing days increase the necessity. Let no citizen stand in the way on account of private interests. The location of the depot has no bearing on real estate. If it did the whole populace ought to be liberal enough to yell for the lucky section.

THE weather prophets who give great chunks of advance wisdom with a seriousness that probably pains them, should let up. They are not hitting it at all. Try the Louisiana lottery, festive prophets. Business is likely a little dull there and if you do happen to hit it there is profit in it. We are weary of forecasts. Everybody is weary.

THE statement is made that a system of taxation similar to the one proposed in Ohio by the adoption of the constitutional amendment now before the people, has so reduced the levy in New York that the rate is lower than it has been before for sixty-six years. The amount of taxes to be collected for state purposes is only thirteen and three-fourth cents on each one hundred dollars of taxable property. The inference is that the voters of Ohio should look into and interest themselves in the proposed amendment rather than let it be defeated by neglect.

IF Campbell is defeated for renomination, a result, however, that is not very likely, newspaper influence ought to take a rise in value. It is an Enquirer campaign against the governor because he isn't a gangster. The McLain crowd ought to know enough about politics to see that no Democrat can carry republican Ohio this year, and let Mr. Campbell suffer the defeat without the added annoyance of opposition in his own party. The Enquirer seems to want to do a little rubbing in.

THE Ohio Farmer takes a cheerful view of the prospect for the farmer the coming year, and the situation seems to warrant it: "With wheat at $1.05, corn 76 cents, oats 59 cents, apples at $5 per barrel and potatoes at $1.20 per bushel, the farmer who has any of these to sell is a lucky man. Take it all around, prices are higher than they have been for twenty years. The farmer who has none of these to sell may console himself with the assurance of good prices for the coming crops, even though they may be bounteous ones. This will be true especially of corn and oats, for the new crop will come in on a barer market than this country has seen for at least two decades. The cloud that has rested over the cattle interest so long is also lifting. Cattle men everywhere are greatly elated over the outlook. Much of this advance in price is due to an enlarged market abroad obtained by the removal of restrictions against American cattle."

THE more one reads President Harrison's speeches, first in the South, now in the West, the more does that reader become convinced that he stands without a rival in that line.

UP to 10 o'clock today there came through the Western Union Telegraph Co. ten orders for Marion lime, each order a car load or more. This is not noted as an uncommon occurrence, for indeed it is quite common, but to show that the lime industry is a great thing for Marion and is quietly and surely attaining wonderful proportions.

THE Urbana citizen is as hopeful a sheet as it is interesting. It says it expects to trot in in the 25,000 class of newspapers when Urbana gets a good boom on. But what is the matter? There was an intimation that Urbana had a boom. The ghosts have evidently not been driven from the Rolling Stock shops by the hum of industry.

THIS city doesn't need new industries any more than it needs substantial confidence in some that are already here. There are factories here that have passed the experimental stage and need only liberal financial resources to make them real successes. The trouble is that a few cranks and a little bad luck have kept back needed capital when it is needed most.

COLUMBUS' new mayor is doing a good work in cleaning out the dens of iniquity that have been a disgrace to the city. He is a Democrat, too, and we remember the republican papers of the Capitol City said pretty harsh things about him during the spring campaign. The papers should do him justice and lend a willing helping hand. It is a great mistake to attempt to create the impression that there are no good Democrats.

WE have got a great scheme for Col. Boone. Let him build a railroad to the planet Mars. Astronomers tell us that the working day there is but three hours, and there is so much labor disturbance over the number of hours for labor here that the strikers can all pull out and find a condition to suit their tastes. The Colonel ought really to think soberly of this. Maybe the man in the Moon would subscribe liberally for a station there.

THE newspapers all over Ohio have given a good deal of attention to Doc Norton's two offices and their salaries, but none have offered to suggest what the festive "Doc" will do should he soon get out of both. Maybe he will have accumulated enough to wait for Senator Brice's term to end, when he can succeed the New York statesman on the strength of his beauty. Marion Democrats have a lingering love for Doc for the way he crushed their Young hopes.

THE CHILIAN WAR.

Two New York Commercial Houses Furnishing Arms and Ammunition.

NEW YORK, May 7.—The actual seat of the Chilian war is located in this city. It is claimed that two prominent commercial houses, both having very large interests in Chili, are furnishing arms, ammunition, and money to both factions—the government, or Balmaceda's forces, and to the revolutionists. The houses mentioned are opposed to each other commercially, and each is doing its utmost to have the faction it supports win.

News was received by one of the firms yesterday from its agents in Buenos Ayres that its competitor had sent a lot of rifles and ammunition to aid Balmaceda's forces. The agent stated that the firm had shipped 350 cases of rifles and 750,000 rounds of ammunition in the Brazilian mail steamships Vigilance and Advance from this port to Santos. There the articles were transferred to another steamer and taken to Montevideo.

Inquiries Made at Washington.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—Secretary Foster has referred to Attorney General Miller for his official opinion the question whether the transfer of arms in an American port from an American vessel to a vessel of a country engaged in revolution is a violation of the neutrality laws, and the treaty of the United States. This question arises in the cases of the Chilian vessel that received arms in the port of Wilmington, Cal. It is understood that the Chilian minister has called the matter to the attention of the state department.

Jupiter's Double Moon.

The Lick telescope is the most powerful glass in the world. It is reported the observers at Mount Hamilton have kept a sharp eye turned upon the shadow of one of the moons of the planet Jupiter. This shadow seemed double, indicating that the tiny moon which cast it is also double. Since the first hint of the discovery many observations have been made through the Lick glass, all tending to confirm the original impression, to wit: That this particular satellite of the greatest of planets is double—a dot of a moon revolving around the main moon.—Exchange.

Journalistic Enterprise in Paris.

Most new inventions, especially journalistic inventions, come from America; but it is to the versatile Parisians that the credit of the very latest thing in journalism is due. The Compagnie Generale des Voitures is on the point of starting a paper entitled Paris Voitures, which is original in more ways than one. Noisy news vendors are to give way to automatic machines. Every cab is to be furnished with one of these; you put a ten centime piece in the slot and you draw out a Paris Voitures. The paper is to contain the bills of the theaters, illustrated notes and "tips" for the races. As if this were not sufficient inducement to the ordinary boulevardier to make the double investment in the cab and the paper for the company's benefit, the happy purchaser of the paper is insured against any accident that may happen in the course of the drive.

This device is not now heard of for the first time, but it may prove reassuring to the cautious foreigner who is alarmed at the reckless driving of the Paris jehu. By a purely original contrivance the holder of a Paris Voitures is to be entitled to a discount of 10 per cent. at the principal shops mentioned in the paper. Lastly, in the spirit of true utilitarian philosophy, business is to be combined with philanthropy, the automatic machine company which undertakes the distribution promising to devote 10 per cent. of its profits to founding a cabmen's refuge.—Pall Mall Gazette.

Sixteen Ducks in His Fish Net.

One of the most remarkable events in the history of shad fishing in the Delaware river occurred just below Finn's Point. John McCaughan, a fisherman from this city, was out getting the "low water." During the drift he noticed several large flocks of wild ducks taking their morning baths in the river about 150 yards away from his skiff and directly in the course of his long net. Some time afterward he hauled in his net. In it he found six shad, one small sturgeon, and to his utter surprise sixteen fine canvasback ducks.

It is not unusual for a fisherman to find one duck in his net, but when sixteen of these luscious fowls were taken out from points all along the net it is a clear indication that hundreds of the ducks were on the river. The birds dive into the river with one swift swoop and go down into the water for several fathoms by the force of the dive. They become entangled in the meshes of the fine gilling twine and are drowned. The birds were beautiful specimens of their species, and their rich plumage and excellent condition made them salable at once. They brought fifty cents each.—New Castle Cor. Wilmington News.

Old Love Returns.

Mrs. Mary Rutherford and her husband live on a farm between Vernon and Madison and have raised a large family. About twenty years ago the lady, now Mrs. Rutherford, was engaged to be married to the son of a neighboring farmer, who was a model young man, but when the marriage feast was spread and the invited guests were awaiting the coming of the groom he came not, having deserted her at the last moment. It so shocked and disappointed the young lady that she lost her mind and was taken to the insane asylum, but after a while she was discharged as cured. In her insane ravings she moaned piteously for her truant lover. After being released from the asylum she married Mr. Rutherford.

A few days ago she took out the old letters of her first lover and read them over, when the old mania came back on her and she again became a raving maniac, without apparently any thought of her husband, children and home, and wails continuously for her old lover.—Indiana Cor. St. Louis Republic.

Snow Tornadoes.

The last winter seems to have reversed the climatic conditions of northern and southern Europe. In western Iceland the usual autumn rains lasted this year till February, and in March the shrubs in the gardens of Reikiavick were in full bud, while Italy and Spain were swept by blizzards that would have appalled a native of North Dakota. Several villages in the Sierra de Guadarrama (north of Toledo) were literally buried in snow, and on the 2d of April an offshoot of the same gale seems to have crossed the Atlantic and to have strewn the coast of New England with wrecks.—Philadelphia Times.

A Colored Man's Snug Inheritance.

Gilbert F. Chinn, colored, the heir of $30,000, who has for some time been in the employ of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad as a porter, has arrived in Baltimore. Search was made for him by Lawyer Harry S. Cummings, the colored councilman, to whom Mayor Davidson turned over a letter recently published inquiring for Chinn. The letter came from Colorado, where the fortune is. The papers of identification will be prepared by Lawyer Cummings. Chinn is about thirty years of age, is married, and is intelligent. He was at one time a student of medicine.—Baltimore Sun.

RIGHT TO BEAR ARMS.

IT SHALL NOT BE INFRINGED, SAYS THE CONSTITUTION.

Some Interviews as to the Power of States and Municipalities to Make Restricting Laws and Ordinances—The Question a Pertinent One at This Time.

[Special Correspondence.]

NEW YORK, May 4.—There is probably no state in the Union in which there is not a law against the carrying of certain weapons, and against carrying any concealed weapon. Even in Texas, which the world at large feels called upon to regard as the paradise of pistol shooters, there is such a law, and it is enforced to a certain extent. That is, a stranger who should be found carrying a revolver in his pocket would probably have to pay a fine, though a very large proportion of the citizens of the state undoubtedly carry them and are not punished.

In Memphis, some eight or nine years ago, a sort of epidemic of shooting affrays led to the passage of a local ordinance by virtue of which persons who were found carrying pistols were imprisoned and not fined. The mayor of a neighboring city, who went armed while traveling, was accordingly sentenced to sixty days in jail, and no influence which he could bring to bear was sufficient to save him from going there, though I believe he was, in fact, pardoned before he had been there very long.

It may be said in a general way that the laws and ordinances in the different parts of the United States are very similar, and it is therefore enough to quote those of New York. Here there are a state law and a corporation ordinance on the subject. The state law prohibiting the carrying of pistols has been repealed, but section 410 of the penal code declares that any person who carries, conceals, or possesses a dagger, a dirk, or a dangerous knife with intent to use it against the person of another shall be guilty of felony, and the following section declares that the possession of such a weapon shall be deemed presumptive evidence of intent to use it. The offense being a felony, it is, of course, punished severely, the penalty being a fine not exceeding $1,000, or imprisonment for not more than seven years, or both.

The carrying of a pistol is a less serious offense, but according to the corporation ordinance it is a misdemeanor for any person, excepting judges of the federal and state courts and officers of the state and city, to carry a pistol of any kind "concealed on his person and not carried openly." Provision is made for the issuance of a permit enabling a citizen to carry a pistol lawfully, but in default of such permit a penalty of ten dollars fine or ten days imprisonment is prescribed.

Just now, probably because of certain notable crimes committed by foreigners, there has been a loud call for the strict enforcement of such laws. The New York Sun the other day quoted an Italian, who had been arrested and found to have a pistol in his pocket, as saying that the habit of carrying weapons is universal among Italians in this country, and expressed its belief that the statement is not far from true. It then referred to the state law making a felony of the carrying of certain specified weapons with intent to use them, and said, "It is evident that such weapons are not borne without the intent to use them," and called on the police to arrest everybody who may be suspected of carrying them. This is in effect a demand that every Italian shall be arrested.

Now, the constitution of the United States, in the second amendment, says: "A well regulated militia being necessary to the security of a free state, the right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed."

To the lay mind there is an apparent conflict between this provision and the state laws mentioned, and I have consulted various authorities on the subject.

Ex-Governor Hoadly, of Ohio, who is now practicing law in New York, said that, without taking time to examine the question thoroughly, he was inclined to think that there was no conflict between the constitutional provision quoted and the various laws mentioned. "It has been held," he said, "that the constitutional provisions apply to federal legislation and to the police power of congress in the District of Columbia and so forth. They do not apply as restricting the power of states or municipalities to pass their own laws."

"But by that you do not mean," said I, "that a state can infringe any right of the citizen which is guaranteed by the constitution of the United States?"

"Of course not," he said hastily. "But this right to keep and bear arms, which is not to be infringed, does not mean a right to carry concealed weapons. It means, rather, the use of weapons of warfare."

"Then a citizen may carry a revolver in a belt, but not in his pocket?"

"Well, you may reduce it to that, I suppose, but remember I am not giving you a carefully prepared opinion—only an off hand one."

Governor Abbett, of New Jersey, seemed to be by no means so sure of the constitutionality of the laws in question, though as an executive charged with the duty of enforcing them he would not criticise them. He refused rather brusquely to express any opinion whatever. Ex-President Cleveland refused even to be seen for an interview on the subject.

Mr. Hummel, of the firm of Howe & Hummel, is generally conceded to be the leading lawyer in "criminal practice," so called, at the New York bar. At all events, he is reputed to understand the criminal code as well as, if not better than any of his rivals. He said:

"I have given a great deal of study to the provisions of the penal code and the municipal ordinances restricting the carrying of deadly weapons, and I have no hesitation in saying that in so far as they relate to the carrying of weapons used in civilized warfare they contravene the second amendment to the constitution of the United States. I have repeatedly advised [illegible] when they have asked my opinion regarding their rights.

"That second amendment must have been a stumbling block in the way of the lawmakers who framed the provisions of the penal code of this state, for in the enumeration of weapons the carrying or possession of which [illegible] a felony, firearms [illegible] as weapons [illegible] Only those are mentioned [illegible] universally regarded as the [illegible] and assassins. Daggers, [illegible] brass knuckles, [illegible] slung shot, [illegible] under the ban, and [illegible] the person is [illegible] I do not [illegible] of weapons [illegible] the power [illegible] What is known as the [illegible] such [illegible]

"It is [illegible] however, with the possessing and carrying of pistols and larger firearms, and [illegible] weapons as are used in the [illegible] Here in New York such [illegible] only by ordinance of the municipality, under penalty of ten dollars fine or ten days imprisonment. If a person who was subjected to such penalty should take the trouble to appeal, there is no doubt in my mind that the higher courts would declare such laws or ordinances unconstitutional.

"The ordinance of this city gives the police authorities the power to grant permits to carry pistols to persons whom they deem fit to be intrusted with that privilege, and I have advised those clients who have consulted me on the question that it would be easier on the whole, and would probably save trouble, to obtain the required permit, and I have further advised them that if the superintendent of police should for any reason refuse such a permit, they should exercise their own discretion, with the full assurance that they could successfully contest the right of the police courts to enforce the prohibiting ordinance.

"Under this ordinance, moreover, the only persons who are actually impeded are those who desire to give full respect and obedience to the laws. Habitual law breakers, as is perfectly well known, do not give a moment's thought to prohibiting statutes or ordinances, and when they are arrested it is usually for some offense of sufficient importance to efface the consideration of the minor misdeed."

Inspector Alexander S. Williams, who was famous as a police officer long before he was inspector, is known as one of the best lawyers on the police force of this city. I asked him once, some time ago, if he believed that the laws against carrying concealed weapons were constitutional, and he said he did not think they were. "I do all I can toward enforcing the laws on this subject, the same as I do all others of course, because it is my duty to, and moreover, I consider them good laws, but I believe if any man who should be punished for carrying a pistol should appeal and should carry his case to the supreme court of the United States, such a law would be declared in that court unconstitutional."

Chief Inspector Byrnes, now acting superintendent of the police, refused to give any opinion on the constitutionality of the laws mentioned, but spoke freely enough about the laws themselves. He was inclined to believe that it was illegal to carry any weapons whatever in the city of New York, and said that a policeman might arrest a citizen for carrying a revolver openly in a belt, but the statutes do not seem to support his opinion in this particular.

"Do you think the laws against carrying concealed weapons are conducive to the safety of the law abiding citizens in their actual operation?" I asked him.

"No, I do not," he said frankly. "There is many a good citizen who would like to carry a pistol, but who will not do it without a permit because of the law, and who is not ashamed, perhaps, but reluctant to put himself in the position of asking for a permit. But dangerous persons always go armed. Some of them, perhaps, have permits, but whether they have or not makes no difference to them. Of course if it were practicable to enforce the laws thoroughly it would be different, but it doesn't seem to be."

Robert Pinkerton, the well known private detective, was asked for his opinion of the law, but was very evasive in his replies. "As to the constitutionality of the laws," he said, "I'd rather not speak, because I am not a constitutional lawyer. And if I should be arrested for carrying a weapon, and the judge should prove to be harsh, I think I would pay my fine, rather than appeal the case. Of course my men go armed a great deal of the time, but we try to keep them from it as much as possible by giving them instructions not to carry weapons excepting when they are going on some business that is likely to be dangerous.

"As a rule," he continued, "I think that the magistrates, at least in this part of the country, are inclined to be very reasonable in their enforcement of these laws. For instance, I think if a reputable man had reasonable cause to suppose that he might need a weapon for self defense, and should be arrested for carrying it, the magistrate would probably discharge him after warning him of the law. It is not so in some parts of the country, however. There are places where the law against carrying weapons is regularly used as a means to blackmail strangers. Residents are never arrested for it, but if a stranger comes, the porter who blackens his shoes at the hotel, the brush boy at the barber's, and everybody else who comes in close contact with him, seems to be acting as a spy. He denounces the stranger, who is fined, and he gets one-half the fine for informing.

"One practical result of these laws is to keep law abiding citizens from carrying weapons, and so place them at a disadvantage in case they do happen to come in contact with criminals, for, of course, the criminals pay no attention to such laws, and good citizens are likely to. To be sure," added Mr. Pinkerton, with a smile, "it is perhaps a good thing to keep law abiding men from carrying pistols, for very few of them know how to use them, and most of them would be more apt to shoot members of their own family than anybody else."

A Dairy at the World's Fair.

Through the medium of a modern dairy three or four hundred cows will furnish milk for thirsty visitors. Enough fresh butter and cheese will also be manufactured daily to supply a good sized village. This is part and parcel of the programme of an elaborate dairy exhibit, under the auspices of the Columbian Dairy association, which embraces the various auxiliary associations of no less than twenty-two states. It is proposed to spend $100,000 for the building, which is to have an auditorium capable of seating 1,000 people, and to show the masses what first class butter and cheese really are, and how they are made. If the plans are carried out there will also be an annex containing exhibits of all kinds of machinery that are allied to these two staple articles of food. It will take five acres of ground to accommodate the dairy building, and ex-Governor Hoard, of Wisconsin, will be the grand mogul of the department.

He did not run away to sea
And come back never more;
He was not spirited away,
Like Charlie Ross, of yore.

Oh, no. He bought a new box coat,
Of large and ample mean,
And since the day he put it on
He has not once been seen.

Here you are. The picnic season loometh up and the festive bug may soon begin to crawl. The committee to arrange for the sixth annual musical picnic of Delaware, Marion and Morrow counties has met at Norton and decided that the jubilant occasion shall be held in June. The exact date and place will be announced later.

Prospect Monitor: George Almendinger met with a very serious accident on Thursday morning at his home about two miles east of town. He was kicked by a stallion which he was caring for, breaking his collar bone and crushing his breast bone against his lungs. Dr. Howald attended the injured man and he is now able to be up and walk around a little.

Bright Durfee is back from the West. This hustling and good looking gentleman has not been interviewed as to whether he has come to boom Marion, build a street railway or just visit with his army of friends. The last named probably, and Bright has evidently timed his visit so as to attend the blooded ball this month and show the dudes here that he is still a justly famous dancer.

The Trotting Association has undoubtedly secured an excellent attraction for the forenoon of July 4th, the last day of the races. Mrs. Jennie Woodall, who has been engaged to make the balloon ascension and parachute leap, is an artist in that line. This lady, according to the Terre Haute Gazette, made a jump of 41,000 feet at that place, Sunday last. Negotiations are also being made with the woman's husband, the two to give a balloon race.

On last Friday a revenue law, passed last October, which relieves the manufacturer and the dealer in cigars of the special tax, went into operation. The former was heretofore compelled to pay something in excess of eight dollars and the latter a little over two dollars. All that is required now is for both dealers to register name, residence, place of business and city with the department and they receive in return a certificate which is tacked up in a conspicuous place just as the special tax receipt was. However the regular revenue on cigars and tobaccos continues the same, the relief given by the law being but nominal.

TEMPORARILY ENJOINED

Some Interesting Litigation Growing Out of the Rental of Hotel Marion.

Some interesting litigation has begun in the matter of the rental of Hotel Marion to D. W. Kessler. The three-years' lease of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Richardson expires on the 10th of this month, and the building has been rented to Mr. Kessler to succeed in the possession of the property.

Elizabeth R. Richardson leased the hotel for three years, with the privilege of three more, with the provision that written notice must be given six months in advance. This notice was given by F. G. Richardson, and signed by him, and not by Mrs. Richardson, the lessee, and advantage was taken of this technicality to remove the present management of the hotel by leasing to Kessler, notwithstanding Richardson's claim that he had been recognized as agent of the lessee. Elizabeth R. Richardson and F. G. Richardson now bring suit against Geo. H. Kling, Amos H. Kling and John J. Hane, lessors, and D. W. Kessler, the lessee, to enjoin them from proceeding toward the ejectment of the present managers of the hotel, and the injunction was allowed by Judge Smalley, at Upper Sandusky, Wednesday.

Johnston & Young and W. Z. Davis represent the Richardsons in the case and McNeal & Welford have been retained by the proprietors of the hotel building, while Scofield & Scofield will look after Kessler's interests. Notice was given this afternoon by defendants' attorneys of a motion to dissolve the injunction, which will be heard before Judge Smalley tomorrow. The fight, which is upon a technicality, will be a bitter one.

RUTHLESSLY PARTED.

The Chinese Laundryman and His Frow Separated by a Cow.

The Orient and Occident are rent asunder, and now the Chinese laundryman, who recently led a smiling maiden, from the wild and wooly west, to the marriage altar, has had his cheering betterhalf ruthlessly taken from him. "Not all on account of Eliza," but all on account of a cow. That is to say the bride's father, whose worldly goods are not so abundant that his life is threatened by the socialistic element, looks upon his son-in-law as a supporting addition to a large and constantly growing family. His last request put to the more or less respectful son-in-law was for enough money to buy a cow. That was too much and the Oriental refused. That settled it. He must be taught a lesson, so his wistful and stern father-in-law gives a paternal order for his daughter to rend the marital tie, and despite her reluctance he takes her home in the hope of coercing the necessary contribution of lucre to get the aforesaid cow.

This is the story. Shorn of all particulars Earl Lee wants the STAR to notify all merchants against selling his wife goods on his account, for she has deserted him. We put it in this informal way to save Mr. Lee the customary fee, and he has that sum saved toward getting the cow and his wife back, if he has the inclination. Besides these facts give a theme—a separation indeed—for the gossips who are full of vinegar just now but are short on facts to enlarge for swell peddling.

ANXIOUS FOR DIVORCE

Charles Ploch and His Wife, Sarah, Both Want a Legal Separation.

April 1st Charles Ploch, filed a petition in common pleas court asking for a divorce from his wife, Sarah, and alleging as grounds for same that notwithstanding he has been a dutiful husband, etc., defendant, regardless of her marital duties, has been guilty of gross neglect of duty, inasmuch that on the 15th day of March, 1889, defendant left the home provided for her by plaintiff and refused to return. He asks for the custody of their one child.

The interesting part of the proceedings, however, is the answer and cross-petition of defendant, in which she alleges the husband's refusal to provide for her the necessaries of life, she being compelled to rely upon the aid of her parents, although he was abundantly able to provide for her. She also charges plaintiff with communicating to her loathsome disease, that he had threatened to kill her by hanging and that from his brutality she was compelled to return to her father's home in Wood county for the protection of her own life and health.

Defendant prays that upon the final hearing she may be divorced from said plaintiff, and that the care, custody and education of the child be adjudged to her exclusively, and asks for alimony for all and proper relief

Obsequies Delayed.

The funeral of the late Weaver A. Turney which was to have occurred this afternoon, was postponed to await the arrival of his son Henry, who is now enroute from Kansas. He is expected tonight. If he arrives as expected the obsequies will occur Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock, though the announcement cannot be positively made.

George W. Turney, of Detroit, R. Williams and wife, of Sedalia, O., Mrs. Edward Price, of Columbus, Benjamin Turney, of Ostrander, Thomas Davids and wife, of Ostrander, and Mrs. Dr. Turney, of Nevada, are here, called hither by the death of Mr. Turney.

STRINGER-GATES NUPTIALS

The General Manager of Marion Manufacturing Company Joins the Benedicts.

At the home of the bride's parents on south Greenwood street, Wednesday night at 9 o'clock, Mr. John W. Stringer and Miss Carrie D. Gates were married by Rev. R. Wallace. The ceremony was performed in the presence of a small company of the immediate friends and relatives. Following it a very nice supper was served and enjoyed. The happy couple departed on the midnight train for New York on a brief wedding trip.

Mr. Stringer is the general manager of the Marion Manufacturing Company, is a capital fellow and has a host of admiring friends. Miss Gates is the estimable daughter of Isaac Gates, a worthy young lady and fit companion for so excellent a husband. The friends of both sides join in wishing them all the good things imaginable.

The C and E. Change of Time.

The new time card of the C. and E. R'y is at hand, the change to take effect next Sunday, May 10. Of the west bound trains No. 1 will leave at 7 a. m. instead of 9:35, No. 3 at 11:35 p. m. instead of 11:20, and No. 5 at 12:45, the same as at present. Of the east bound trains No. 2 will arrive at 5:40 p. m. instead of 6, No. 8 will arrive at 9:30 p. m. instead of 11:20, and No. 12 at 4:20 a. m., as it now is.

The Erie card has not arrived but similar changes are expected, except perhaps in case of train 1. It is thought it will not connect with C. and E. train 1.

The Ladies Delighted.

The pleasant effect and the perfect safety with which ladies may use the liquid fruit laxative, Syrup of Figs, under all conditions make it their favorite remedy. It is pleasing to the eye and to the taste, gentle, yet effectual in acting on the kidneys, liver and bowels.

For the month of April the estimated gross earnings of the Columbus Hocking Valley and Toledo were $253,008.42 against $262,985.04 for April, 1890, and against $165,036.04 in April, 1889. Considering that April, 1890, was the busiest April in the history of the road and that navigation has not yet opened on the lakes, the showing is a gratifying one. For the four months from January to April inclusive, the earnings were $863,307.57 against $801,198.08 in 1890 and against $722,782.64.

Willie Roads, the bad boy who has just recovered sufficiently from a broken leg to get out of the infirmary, was arrested today by Policeman Masterson for stealing chickens and pigeons. He was locked up at the city prison, but there is some doubt as to what can be done with him.

F. H. King telegraphed the Steam Shovel Co. an order that he had just closed at Morrisburg, Ontario, Wednesday for a large steam shovel. The Shovel Company is an institution that doesn't have to have reciprocity to send its goods beyond American boundaries.

SYRUP of FIGS

ONE ENJOYS

Both the method and results when Syrup of Figs is taken; it is pleasant and refreshing to the taste, and acts gently yet promptly on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels, cleanses the system effectually, dispels colds, headaches and fevers and cures habitual constipation. Syrup of Figs is the only remedy of its kind ever produced, pleasing to the taste and acceptable to the stomach, prompt in its action and truly beneficial in its effects, prepared only from the most healthy and agreeable substances, its many excellent qualities commend it to all and have made it the most popular remedy known.

Syrup of Figs is for sale in 50c and $1 bottles by all leading druggists. Any reliable druggist who may not have it on hand will procure it promptly for any one who wishes to try it. Do not accept any substitute.

CHARGED WITH BASTARDY

Harry Stoner Is Sent to Jail But Is Released for the Ceremony.

On Tuesday Clara Estelle Peters, a young lady 16 years of age, appeared before 'Squire McNally and swore out a warrant for the arrest of Harry Stoner, charging him with bastardy. The warrant was given to Policeman Masterson, who did not succeed in finding Stoner until Wednesday afternoon, when he was taken before the justice. McNally issued a mittimus and the prisoner was taken to jail about 6 o'clock.

The difficulty was thought to have been satisfactorily arranged so far as it had progressed, when the young justice was called upon to perform his first marriage ceremony. He proceeded to the probate judge's office, where Stoner and Miss Peters were waiting with a license, which had been secured by friends in their behalf. The ceremony was performed very happily under the circumstances and the rigidity of the law suspended.
